

THE AFRICAN RENAISSANCE SHOW

A FIRST ON THE CONTINENT

On Sunday 3 May, 1998, 3000 V.I.P. guests will experience the continent's most spectacular show - a living museum of Africa's heritage in dance, textile, shape and sound.

The African Renaissance Show will bring together the living treasures of over 16 of Africa's richest cultures in a 3-hour, non-stop performance featuring the continent's finest narrators, singers, dancers, percussionists and designers - custodians of the legacy of culture.

The show presents the richness of the African Renaissance - the birth of Africa's 21st century society, from a unique awareness of the past.

The show features the acclaimed African Heritage Collection, perfected over two decades by Nairobi-based world authority Alan Donovan, with Thapelo Mofokeng and the Southern African Living Museum recreating the Southern African past in song, textile and movement.
